

BAME Officer - Abdi Duale

- Abdi is a former council candidate in Ealing, he wants to make his focus and the focus of London Labour selecting more BAME candidates in the run up to next year's local elections across London.
- The pandemic has hit BAME communities harder than any other community. In his day job, Abdi works, in building council homes to help more families have safer, warmer and greener homes.
- London Labour needs an experience campaigner to help more BAME members get involved and get elected. His experience as a former Labour organiser will help more BAME members do that.
