

CLP London Wide - Jamal Uddin

I joined the Labour party 26 years ago. I am an active member of the National Education Union (NEU) and a representative of the University College Union (UCU). Currently, I am a Cllr in London Borough of Redbridge with a portfolio of Deputy Chief Whip and Chair of Licensing Committee. Currently, I am a Maths lecturer in a FE college and previously worked as a senior manager in a Local Authority.

With my core values of human rights, equalities, and social justice I have always found myself at the heart of the Labour principle. I am fascinated by Sir Keir Starmer's leadership and devoted myself to work hard for a 2024 Labour government. For too long the equality of opportunity and the talents amongst the working class, and minority groups have been undermined. Often, we see ourselves within factions of either left, centre-left, or centric rather than a commitment to supporting all our members across the spectrum under one Labour Party. The power of the selection process has been centred in the hands of the few at the top, with a lack of transparency at LCFs and the Regional Executive Committee.

I am standing for London Wide Region CLP Representative. If elected I will be working hard to ensure that selection and appeal processes are fair, transparent, and democratic under the ethos of the broad church of the United Labour Party. I will make sure that members are never unfairly excluded, and complaints are handled promptly and impartially. The wake of Covid19 has changed our socioeconomic priority, political demand, and accountability. Under the leadership of Sir Keir Starmer, there has never been a greater time to play a vital role in the region.

I will ensure the selection of strong parliamentary candidates, with the skills and personality, to win seats and increase our majority in parliament. I will foster strong communications between Labour party members and the London region and make sure selection processes for Local Government and GLA candidates fairer and transparent.

Over the last seven years, I have been working with Wes Streeting MP to win Ilford North. With my thirty years of experience in working in public services and involvement in the Labour Party, I understand the responsibility lies as a regional representative, procedural engagement of conference, and enact substantive democratic changes through influencing policy.
