

LGBT Officer - Lucio Buffone

I'm Lucio Buffone, I live in Kennington and am a train driver and an ASLEF shop steward based at London Paddington.

In my 5 years on the Regional Executive Committee I have worked tirelessly to ensure that the Party's rulebook is adhered to, to ensure the London Party acts fairly for all members. I have been a strong voice for LGBT rights on the Executive and have never shied away from demanding more from our elected representatives.

Over the next year, I want to work with LGBT+ Labour, trade unions and the CLPs to ensure that more LGBT+ people stand for council elections in 2022. We particularly need to increase accessibility to encourage far more LGBT+ key workers to stand.

I will work with local CLPs to help create LGBT+ branches.

We do not create policy on the REC, but it is our job to ensure that the party is run in an open and democratic way to enable members to thrive in our party and it is also our job to uphold the constitution, particularly clause 1, 'to organise and maintain in Parliament and the
